

I listen to Air1, 90.1FM all the time, it is the only music station I can listen to that is encouraging. I have listened to other stations and all they do is encourage sex, drugs, and disobedience. I feel that if Air1 were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster, a lot of people like me would lose this positive reassurance that not all is lost. I believe it is important to know that there are many others out there like me who believe in family values and not in making fun of our legal system and making a mockery of morals. By listening to Air1, I hear about people who care about what happens during an election, who care about how family morals need to be strengthened, and, most of all, who care about the same faith I care about. I have never before listened to a radio station that made me want to be apart of the system, I always believed my vote doesn't matter. Now I am encouraged to be apart of this election and part of my community because I now realize there are people out there who care and want to make good changes. Listening to other stations, I felt like it was the general opinion that nothing matters so why care. I hope that you will listen and understand that, for many of us, Air1 is an important source for encouragement and that it is important for our community and even our nation in the long run. If The LPFM broadcasters are allowed to take priority, then we may very well lose our Air1 station for good. Please take the time to think this over very carefully. Thank you.
